Re: Site G, Area 1, Sauget Superfund Site

Dear Mr. Nassif:

In your letter dated July 10, 1998, you requested information concerning U.S. EPA's demand for Superfund response costs expended at Sauget Area 1, Site G. By letter dated July 23, 1998 we made an initial response to that letter. This letter provides you with a second response containing the cost documentation requested for the Site.

Specifically, this letter transmits a cost documentation package prepared by U.S. EPA's Program Accounting and Analysis Section. Included in this package are summaries and computer reports listing payroll, travel, indirect costs, contracts and other costs, as well as a recalculation of the total costs associated with the Site. As you will see, the cost for Site G has been recalculated pursuant to this analysis to be $627,413.71. This amount should be considered the figure demanded in this action instead of the original figure of $615,618.97 estimated in the itemized cost summary sent to you in the Agency's Demand Letter.

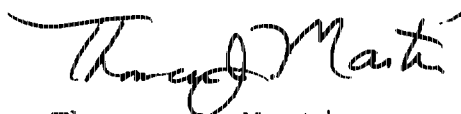

The enclosed package has been reviewed for the presence of information entitled to protection under the Privacy Act and Confidential Business Information regulations and such material has been redacted. Additionally, a copy of this document has been placed in the Sauget Area One file housed in the 7th floor Document Center at the 77 West Jackson Building, Chicago, Illinois, for review by other interested parties.

Finally, per your request, I have enclosed a representative sample of documents contained in the "work performed" documentation package. This is a large file, and a copy is available for review at the 7th floor U.S. EPA Document Center.

Please call me if you have any questions about the enclosed documentation information.

Sincerely,
